ABOUT IEEE

The Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers Inc. (IEEE), a non-profit organization, is the world's leading professional association for the advancement of technology. IEEE offers a wide range of learning, career enhancement, and employment opportunities within the engineering sciences, research and other technology areas.

The IEEE has more than 400,000 members in 160 countries. The IEEE publishes more than 1,000 leading edge conferences proceedings every year, which are recognized by academia and industry worldwide as the most vital collection of consolidated published papers in various fields. Student branches provide an opportunity for student members to begin networking in their areas of interest and future profession.

The IEEE Computer Society is the computing professional's single, unmatched source for technology information, inspiration and collaboration. By making the most up-to-date and advanced information in the computing world easily accessible, they are the source that computing professionals trust to provide high quality, state-of-the-art information on an on-demand basis.

Women In Engineering is an affinity group under IEEE which was formed in 1994 and comprises of vibrant community of men and women working together towards the betterment of community. Many innovative humanitarian projects have been introduced under WIE focusing on specific groups of people.

IEEE Graduates of the Last Decade (GOLD) was created in 1996 as a membership program to help students transition to young professionals within the larger IEEE community. IEEE young professionals are automatically added to the GOLD member community as they graduate.

IEEE GOLD is a vibrant community of engineers, scientists, and technical experts with member representation across the globe and throughout IEEE societies.

This workshop is organized with a similar focus on improving the leadership skills of the educators which will further improve the quality of teaching and the end product.

ABOUT INSTITUTION

Kumaraguru College of Technology was established in 1984 by the Ramanandha Adigalar Foundation and Arutselver Dr. N. Mahalingam of sakthi group. The institution has emerged as one of the premier institution in south India. It is affiliated to Anna University of Technology, Coimbatore. The institution has 15 academic departments and 4 research centers , offering 13 UG courses, 13 PG courses and doctoral programmes in various disciplines of engineering and technology.

The college is ISO 9001-2000 certified and accredited by NBA & NAAC. The institution imparts value-based and holistic education so the student graduates as a socially responsible and industry-ready individual.

ABOUT DEPARTMENT

The Department of Information Technology was established in 1998 with a view to impart quality education in the field of information Technology. Since its inception the department has expanded and grown in infrastructure and dissemination of knowledge within and outside curriculum and skill development activities.

ABOUT SEMINAR

E-Governance is the application of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) for delivering government services, exchange of information communication transactions, integration of various stand-alone systems and services between Government-to-Citizens (G2C), Government-to-Business (G2B), Government-to-Government (G2G) as well as back office processes and interactions within the entire government frame work.
