The session will highlight on the following:

- Overview of the IEEE Xplore Digital Library
- How to approach IEEE Xplore when given a project or research title?
- How to conduct a comprehensive literature review in my area of interest?
- How can I collect more relevant papers as fast as possible?
- How to access future publications in my area of interest?
- How to find best papers out of a bunch of articles?
- How to look for additional articles which are related to an article of your interest?
- How to find experts in a technical area of your interest and in your location?
- How can I stay current and competitive by using the IEEE Xplore?
- How to save my favorite documents to relevant projects folders for future reference?
- How to read a scientific paper more efficiently in an interactive HTML format?
- What are the resources available if I want to author a journal or a conference paper?
- How to find a good conference to publish my work?
- Where to find online resources which will assist in learning more about IEEE Xplore?
